INSURRECTION AGAINST KELLOGG.

FIGHTING IN NEW ORLEANS!

The C[illegible] Fought Not Wisely, but Discreetly

The Lieutenant-Governor Calls the People to Arms

He Implores Grant to Stand by Him

The Streets Barricaded and Occupied by Armed Citizens.

New Orleans, Sept 14—At 3 P M armed men were stationed at the intersection of all streets on the south side of Canal street from the river to Clair[illegible] street. About 4 P M a body of Metropolitans, 500 strong, with cavalry and artillery appeared at the head of Canal street and took position. Gen [illegible] commanding accompanied by an officer, then rode up and down Canal street ordering armed citizens to disperse. Some firing soon after [illegible]ed. The Metropolitans are reported to have [illegible] at the first fire. The citizens are now building barricades along Poydras street, having already [illegible] the City Hall and the alarm telegraph [illegible] the police tel[egr]aph lines which are worked from [illegible] City Hall have been detached and are [illegible] ...ny of U S troops are here [illegible] at the Custom House.

[illegible] that the authorities seem to have [illegible] in their ability to deal with what [illegible] mob. They say unless the people [illegible] there will be bloody work to night [illegible] have been [illegible]ed on all streets between [illegible] and Canal streets, and the people's party [illegible] of the city above Canal street. [illegible] are massed in and around Jackson Square, and at the St. Louis Hotel

[illegible] First Blood

[A] sharp fight occurred at the river end [of] Canal street, at 4 o'clock. The number of killed is estimated as high as [illegible] Many were wounded. Captain J. West, a printer and well known correspondent, and E A Talledano, were killed on the citizens' side. [illegible] of the Metropolitans are reported [illegible] reported wounded [illegible] colored men, of which the Metropolitan brigade is largely composed, broke and ran at the first fire [illegible] their comrades, a number of whom were killed or wounded

Later.

[illegible] 14—8 P M —The streets above Canal street are filled with armed citizens. An [illegible] attempt will [be] made by the Metropolitans to dispossess them of their op[illegible] who handled them so roughly this afternoon. [illegible] of the barricades are made with street [cars]. No further conflict is apprehended before [illegible]. Six or eight citizens, and 20 of the 60 Metropolitans, were killed in the fight this afternoon [illegible] were wounded on both sides.

The Commercial Outlook in Canada.

Toronto Sept. 15—The Globe in an article on the commercial outlook says money is more abundant than a year ago and there is more difficulty in employing funds. The country's resources give good prospects of an overflowing abundance of grain and a handsome profit on wool. Hops are fine with a large surplus to export. Dairy products are increasing in magnitude. The lumber and timber trade is depressed and unprofitable, but local consumption is increasing. The square timber trade is still more depressed. Combinations have been formed to curtail its production. The imports at the Custom Houses largely exceed those of last year

THE RAILROAD DISCUSSION

Portland Sept 15 1874

To the Editor of the Oregonian

It may be supposed that the counties of the upper part of the Willamette are little interested in the construction of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad that because it does not pass by their doors, therefore they can know of no reason why they ought to support it or favor its construction in any way shape or manner. Were it proved that a locality was benefited by the construction of a railroad past it, then possibly there would be grounds for such supposition. But further than what is necessary for the accommodation of the business of a locality a railroad to pass by is no advantage to the locality. In reality a railroad is sometimes the death knell of local business

The Willamette Valley is favored already with railroad accommodations for all its business excepting on the Westside between Junction City and the Yamhill river and only a railroad line that has peculiar merits as a great trunk line connecting remote large communities will advantage counties in the Willamette Valley for besides the Willamette river as a means for transportation they have a railroad toward Portland and the seaboard which is the only route to their produce market. And the exact route of such great connecting trunk line between the east and the west is not important if it but answer the purposes of a connection between isolated large communities. The Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad connects with the Union Pacific at its western terminus near Salt Lake and is a nearer route to the Pacific seaboard at Portland than is the Central Pacific Railroad which leads to San Francisco. So that the great westward flow of immigration which passes over the Union Pacific would be intercepted at Salt Lake, (the western terminus of the Union Pacific) by two railroads the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake and the Central Pacific which would become competing lines—the one for Portland Oregon and the Pacific Northwest and the other for San Francisco and California

Other railroads are being extended towards Salt Lake from the Mississippi valley besides the Union Pacific. They start westward at a point farther south than the Union Pacific—from St. Louis Mo—and therefore come more directly from the great body of the United States. St Louis Mo is the recognized crowning diadem of the cities of the Mississippi valley, and has a better prospect in the future than any other of the cities of the Mississippi valley. One of these railroads from St Louis is nearly completed to Salt Lake, and is looking to a connection with the Pacific coast. By the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad we could avail ourselves of that road for it will be completed to Salt Lake By the time the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Road can be built. By this means the great flood of immigration westward would be intercepted in behalf of Oregon and the Pacific Northwest by the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad at the only point where it could be intercepted effectually. For after the immigrant would be once ensconced upon the iron wheels of the Central Pacific it would carry it hurriedly westward over the entire length of its own track into California. Our rival is California, honorable rival though she be. Who does not recollect a few weeks ago an article in a San Francisco Newspaper earnestly and seriously recommending to Oregon that it would be better for people here or just as well at least for them to send their wheat to California to be there shipped to foreign markets? A few more strides of enterprise in California and she will have advanced so far and drawn the net work about the Webfeet so that she will indeed say to Oregon, "Come to us" and the Webfeet will obey

Does any one doubt that Californians labor and exert themselves to advantage their own State? The Central Pacific Railroad compels the people of Nevada to receive their supplies from San Francisco whether or no. Eastern freight for Nevada is carried to San Francisco and then reconveyed again over the Central Pacific back to Nevada. Would California be less unmerciful to Oregon?

By intercepting overland communication at Salt Lake Oregon would do so upon equal footing with California—yea to an advantage of California. For the Pass of the Columbia in the Cascades is a striking contrast to the snow sheds of the Sierras of California; besides the interception of the China trade with New York and London, and carrying the principal part of it by our Pass of the Columbia in the Cascades, is intimately connected with the success of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad. In regard to this matter about all that can be said to the members of the Oregon Legislature just convened is "Acquit you like men" and the fruit will soon fall on our side

The immigration that would pass over the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad would become settlers in Eastern Oregon Idaho and Washington Territories and flow on to Western Oregon. These vast regions of Eastern Oregon Idaho and Washington Territories are too important to be omitted from our attentive care. If the interests of Southern Oregon naturally incline to unite with ours, nothing that Oregon can do of an advantage to itself will operate to the detriment of Southern Oregon. What Southern Oregon will need is transportation facilities with the seaboard. It is the only application extant that can relieve her necessities. Immigration would be a mockery to them without this and without immigration all would be futile. If she wishes to have these facilities it will be but right that she should have assistance in return from Northern and Eastern Oregon when they shall have become established, with the iron courser speeding the immigration to fill their valleys and dales with prosperous and happy yeomanry

Assistance to the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad is objected to on Constitutional grounds by some. Whether this shallow pretext is but to hide their indifference in opposition to the road I know not, the rumor is that it is

Mr Justice Field now of the U S Supreme Court when Chief Justice of California decided that a levy of a tax for twenty years and its appropriation for a given object was not a debt further than to the extent of the amount to be raised each year and the reasoning of Mr Field was conclusive. And this decision built the Central Pacific Railroad

I understand that it is agreed the exchange of the proceeds of the swamp lands which are supposed to be worth one million dollars but out of which the State can really make more and the five per cent fund between the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad and the State in consideration that the State should pay five per cent interest on one million dollars of the company's bonds for 20 years would not be a loan of the State's credit for the State would receive an equivalent. Thus it is away with the chronic objectors to the loan of the credit of the State

The News of a few evenings since said that a guarantee binding the State in any sum above $50 000 whether based upon a consideration or otherwise would be unconstitutional

This is strange language but mere assertion. The first part of Section 7 Art XI in the State Constitution says the Legislative Assembly shall not loan the credit of the State nor in any manner create any debt or liabilities which shall singly or in the aggregate with previous debts, and liabilities exceed the sum of $50 000 but this is declaratory only. The penalty which is in the section is in the following language. And every contract of indebtedness entered into or assumed by or on behalf of the State when all its liabilities and debts amount to said sum ($50 000) shall be void and of no effect. Now the State of Oregon is not presumed itself to be in debt, when it has made an appropriation out of a particular fund like the appropriation out of the 500 000 acres of land granted by Congress to this State for internal improvements, and out of which money was appropriated to build the canal and locks at Oregon City. And I undertake to say that the reasonable and only correct construction of this prohibition contained in the State Constitution, is that when the State is in debt $50 000 any indebtedness further is null and void. The language is not that the State may not create debts above $50 000 in any event but that when the State is indebted to the amount of $50 000 the creation of any more indebtedness shall be null and void. We might ask what indebtedness created by the Legislature does the State Constitution declare shall be null and void? That created at the time when the State is already in debt a given amount

In the Legislature of 1862 or 1864, Hon. A G Hovey, then a member from a committee, by whom the question was considered reported that the part of the section first quoted was only directory. The effective part of the section is the latter clause which only operates to determine the time when any indebtedness shall not be incurred. And although the State may pay a liability entered into or incurred in its behalf without authority, it is not the State's debt unless the State Legislature authorized it

Now Mr Editor, as I have bothered you so much over this little matter I beg your indulgence a little further. Two of the Democratic papers of this State, have undertaken to say the Governor would veto the proposed aid to the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad, even if the Legislature should pass it. I cannot think those papers have spoken by authority from the Governor. I know they could not have done so. Mr Editor for Governor Grover must recollect that in the last two elections, which made him Governor of this State he passed up the Columbia river with a deficit of from five to six hundred votes in each election and that but for the votes of Eastern Oregon in neither of the two elections would Governor Grover have been successful. Twice has Eastern Oregon rescued him from defeat and at one time it rescued him from increased majorities against him in the other portion of the State. Dare he, then to defeat this railroad that is the pet enterprise of Eastern Oregon? I know Governor Grover a little and I do not think he could be guilty of the ingratitude that could prompt him to this act so recreant to his friends. Should it be and the Governor ought to receive advice from his political friends and not through any other columns, I would answer what an old philosopher said "To go to your enemies if you would know the truth"

Nor is this Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad any political matter. It is far above anything of that sort. The hardy pioneer who could brave the hardships of becoming an early settler in the West now determines to progress a step further and rear high the fabric of civilization upon the foundations which he so early helped to lay

P S —Mr Wm Reed of Dundee reports the distance to be 339 miles by the Winnemucca route. He does not however, state from where to anywhere. Hon D P Thompson, who is a surveyor and made an examination at one time says the distance from Winnemucca to the Willamette valley is 450 miles. Mr Amos King who has traveled over the route to Camp Warner, says the land is no account so far as he has been over the route. He says the twenty acre lot he owns at his residence is worth all the land he saw on that route P

The fact that Oregon has extensive coal mines remaining undeveloped in various parts of the State is a fact settled beyond dispute. Coal beds are scattered from one end of the State to the other and every few days we hear of new discoveries. Coos county however takes the lead in this line. Beecher Tilton Doggerel.—The Postmaster General fresh from Europe finds himself on the first day of his official labors in Washington called upon to decide a delicate construction of the Postal laws. It appears that since the Beecher Tilton scandal the mails have been freely used, by means of the postal card, to circulate doggerel verses on this public topic. To-day a communication was received from the Postmaster at Pittsburg setting forth that the mails particularly West were burdened with this class of matter. He raises the point that inasmuch as the newspapers have been freely circulated through the mails containing the most objectionable of language whether it would not now be overstraining the intent of the law, after the uninterrupted privilege extended to the public journals, which in his opinion, came within the meaning of the law, to discriminate against the postal cards by refusing them in the mails as obscene literature —N Y Wash Cor, Sept 2d

THE TRIP DOWN THE COAST FROM COOS BAY—THE PIONEERS CELEBRATION, THE MECHANICS FAIR AND THE DRIVING PARKS OF SAN FRANCISCO—THE MATERIAL GROWTH AND PROSPERITY OF THE CITY

[FROM OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT]

San Francisco, Sept 8, 1874

The trip from Coos Bay to San Francisco by sea is one of exciting interest. The bar at the entrance to Coos Bay, like the bar of the Columbia, has been a convenient ghost in the hands of the selfish and designing to frighten off legitimate competition in the shipping line, but that day is past. At flood tide there are seventeen feet of water on this bar. We crossed it with ease in the steamer Eastport. This steamer is a great favorite with the traveling public. Being built principally for freighting coal, her time is comparatively slow, but she is very safe. Her saloon is convenient and comfortable, a good table is provided, and Capt Whitney and officers are most obliging

The usual time occupied in the passage from the bay to San Francisco is fifty hours—when head winds prevail it takes two days and a half. The trade between Southern Oregon and San Francisco by way of Coos Bay, is of great importance to that section of the State. In three or five years it will be of considerable magnitude and very profitable

THE DAY WE [illegible]

This was a high day with the Pioneers of San Francisco and the State generally. It being the 25th anniversary, and the day being remarkably favorable, the turn out was general and the procession imposing. The members formed at the head of Montgomery street, and marched to Woodward's Gardens, where appropriate exercises were held. The crowd that witnessed the procession, and that assembled in the Gardens was immense. Excellent order prevailed. All the banks, brokers, wholesale stores and leading business establishments were closed. It was a more general holiday than the Fourth of July. Mr Lick being President of the Association, and having lately made a princely gift to perpetuate its organization added much to the popularity and effect of this celebration.

THE MECHANICS FAIR.

This popular Fair is open nearly three weeks. The buildings are on Mission street, and are the most extensive and complete of the kind ever erected on this coast. The exhibitors are very numerous the exhibitions embrace almost every conceivable variety of machinery, agricultural implements, and household furniture in every possible variety and most elaborate finish. The financial success is worthy of the enterprise and business capacity of the managers, $50 000 having been received already for the sale of tickets of admission. From what we saw at the Fair and learned from others, it is evident that home manufactures are making rapid advances in California

THE BAY DISTRICT AGRICULTURAL FAIR

Was opened on Saturday for the first time. The grounds are located half way between San Francisco and the Cliff House—three miles' drive from Montgomery street. The grading of the grounds cost $75 000, the fencing and buildings $100,000. The sheds are capable of accommodating 1,000 head of stock. The club house, the sheds for the exclusive use of the carriages of the members of the club, the saloons, the stands and pavilions for the accommodation of visitors at the races are equal to any on the Pacific or Atlantic coasts for location, completeness and elegance. The exhibition of thoroughbred cattle, horses, sheep and hogs, is worthy of the State of California, these attract the attention and admiration of visitors up to 1 o'clock; at that hour there is a great rush for the stands and pavilion on the adjoining race course. The weather so far has been most favorable for visitors attending this and other public entertainments at full blast in San Francisco at this time. From 12 to 1 o'clock each day, the numbers of carriages and buggies arriving for the races is a marvel. The attendance of visitors varies from 2 000 to 5,000 daily, according to the character of the horses to run. The admission is $1. It is evident to the most superficial observer that the great attraction of the Bay District Fair is the races and that in the absence of them the attendance would be limited to a very small number. Betting was the order of the day, and for comparatively large amounts. Part of the drive to the Fair Grounds is through the

GOLDEN GATE PARK

The park itself is in a comparative state of infancy. It will be one of the grand institutions of San Francisco in a few years. The main drive through it is equal to the best and most complete avenue in the Central Park of New York. The grading and finishing of this road and other improvements were made at a cost of $288 000. There are six miles of an elegant drive at present that extends to the Cliff House. The road is perfection itself, the view of mountain and ocean scenery is grand and the admiration of visitors. The number of fast teams that drive there on fine days, particularly Wednesdays and Saturdays, is a sight worth seeing and give an observer some idea of the wealth and taste of the people of San Francisco. It can be said of the Commissioners of the Golden Gate Park what can be said of few public institutions in the State, that the money has been wisely spent in the improvements made with great economy and superior taste. It will take some years to carry out the original plans and improvements. When completed there will be twelve miles of beautiful drives within the park, not surpassed by any in the Union for completeness of finish and charming scenery

THE GROWTH OF SAN FRANCISCO

During the past two years is marvelous in fine stores, magnificent private residences and whole streets of beautiful cottages. It may be said that there is scarcely a vacant house in the city or its extensive suburbs. New houses are scarcely finished until rented, and those left are taken by persons of more limited means. The population has increased 25 000 since 1870. It is now 200 000 and is constantly growing in numbers, wealth and influence

REAL ESTATE

Has made a vast recovery since 1872. There is not much speculation, but there is a steady demand for all kinds of desirable property, both for business purposes and private residences. City of inside property is higher than it was during the inflation of 1868-9. Outside lands or suburban lots and blocks are selling at good prices but not at the gambling rates of the time referred to. The sales of real estate last month amounted to $3 000 000, the average monthly sales amount to $2,000,000. The value of real estate in the city and county is at least $450,000,000, improvements on the same are assessed at $30 123 285, private property is assessed at $100 571 641; making the total value of real estate and private property $389 694 926

THE SAVINGS BANKS OF SAN FRANCISCO

Are invaluable institutions for the industrious classes of the city and State. The eleven savings institutions of the city have 50 711 depositors and $60 900 262 deposits making an increase of $4 000 000 for the half year ending 30th June. The dividends vary from 7½ to 10 per cent per annum according to the nature of the deposit. These institutions are of inestimable value in making loans on real estate at 9 per cent. Nearly all of this immense amount is so loaned. These facts go far to explain the increased value of real estate, the progress of the city as well as to demonstrate the industry and economy of the common people and middle classes of society generally

SAN FRANCISCO HAS GREAT CONTRASTS.

There is great wealth and extreme poverty, and noble virtues, but prominent vices; much intelligence and [illegible] crime; beautiful weather but dense fogs and abominable sand drifts, not a few honorable bankers, merchants and dealers, but quite a number of corrupt rings and mean politicians and other thieves.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SEPT 16 1874

THE NEW ORLEANS INSURRECTION

The Kellogg government has been overturned by force, the adherents of McEnery have taken possession of the city of New Orleans, Kellogg himself is a fugitive, and a new government has been set up in Louisiana. There has been some bloodshed, and the Executive who boldly declared last Monday that he would not yield to a menace, has been sadly frightened. All the events in this remarkable drama have transpired with startling rapidity. Before word can be sent from Washington the new administration comes into power, and the old one is a fugitive, seeking shelter in a United States Custom House. Having accomplished all they desired the people disperse quietly to their homes, and the President's proclamation is answered by the insurgents with a statement of the grievances which led them to rise against the lawfully constituted authorities of the State, apparently moderate in tone and conciliatory.

In thus undertaking to redress their grievances by force and arms the people of New Orleans have we much fear added another grave complication to the troublesome Louisiana problem. It is intimated in our morning dispatches that the President will uphold Kellogg with United States troops. Having gone thus far the insurgents will not in all probability submit to the restoration of Kellogg without a struggle. The strength of the militia force which responded with wonderful alacrity to Governor Penn's call for aid indicates that a large part of the people of Louisiana are willing to support the McEnery faction with their lives, if necessary. The introduction of United States troops into the city might be the signal for a general arming, not only in New Orleans but all over the State and recent race troubles show that other States would not be slow to lend aid and comfort in a protracted struggle.

The solution of the Louisiana trouble is farther off than ever before if the President shall conclude to employ the army in the reinstatement of Kellogg, and it is probable that he will. It is not easy to understand how he can avoid doing so since it would be no more than a continuation of the policy adopted when Congress declined to give the relief it should have given. Kellogg has been recognized repeatedly, as the lawful Governor of Louisiana, and we cannot see that a successful revolution against his authority changes the situation according to the President's theory of duty. We shall watch with anxious interest for a peaceable settlement of the difficulty.

MORE BOLTERS

The memory of the Republicans of the Nineteenth Congressional District of Ohio is relentless. At the regular party convention they were asked to forget the record made by General J. A. Garfield in the Forty second Congress. The Representative wanted a merciful oblivion in the matter of Back Pay and Credit Mobilier, and his supporters thought they had secured it by outvoting a large majority and giving Garfield a renomination. But the minority in this Ohio district did just what certain dissatisfied Vermont Republicans did in Poland's case; they shook the dust from their feet and called another nominating convention. These audacious men actually bolted.

The anti Garfield convention was held at Warren, Ohio, on the 10th inst. All the counties in the district were represented. The platform of principles on which their candidate is sent forth reads as follows:

Resolved, That the peril of the Government lies not so much in high ambition as in low dishonesty, and that the perpetuity and welfare of the republic imperatively require us to emphatically condemn the acts of its public servants who by their support of the back pay and increase of salaries, sharing in the proceeds of the dishonest Credit Mobilier swindles, by prostituting and selling their official influence to promote schemes of corruption, wrongful and unjustifiable acts have brought reproach and dishonor upon the country.

Resolved, That we deny that party fealty or loyalty should make us forget our manhood and become mere knaves by approving or accepting, either men or mercenaries at the dictation of party managers, whom we believe to be dishonest or corrupt, and we affirm that the only test of political preferment should be sound principles, capacity and honesty in the discharge of official trust, and we hereby declare that by this chart our course shall be guided.

There are certain unmistakable allusions in the above which indicate that the Republicans of the Nineteenth Ohio District hold tenaciously to the recent history of Gen Garfield. The work of the Convention is well received, it is said, and their candidate, R. H. Hurlbut, will make a strong fight against Garfield. Hurlbut is a Presiding Elder in the Methodist Episcopal Church, a man of ability and unquestioned integrity and a life long Republican.

ORGANIZATION OF THE TWO HOUSES

After considerable skirmishing the Senate has concluded to get ready for the work which lies before it. An organization was effected yesterday by the election of Senator R. B. Cochran of Lane President, and Syl. C. Simpson Chief Clerk. Mr Cochran has had several years of service in the Senate and his long experience fits him we hope for the position of presiding officer. In selecting Mr Simpson, the Senate has chosen a gentleman admirably qualified in all particulars for the laborious post of Chief Clerk. The minor offices have been disposed of with due regard to the geography of the country it is to be hoped, and the disappointed candidates who might have been working on the roads instead of hanging to the Senatorial skirts must now wait until the rush of business toward the close of the session shall afford them a few days work in committee rooms, or go home to lay their wires for 1876. Some unexpected complications appear to have arisen just as the Senate was ready to ballot for a Page and nobody can now guess whose boy will win.

In the House something like a dozen ballots have been taken for Speaker, with no success. The candidates are J. C. Drain (Ind.) C. A. Reed (Rep.) and W. W. Fidler (Dem.) Hon. J. C. Drain is spoken of as a gentleman amply qualified to preside over the House. He has been in the Legislature before. We trust that the contest will not be prolonged beyond the third day of the session. The House ought to organize this morning, and begin at once the business for which it was convened.

The Iowa Anti Monopoly State Central Committee have filled the vacancy on their State ticket occasioned by the withdrawal of Barnes, nominee for State Treasurer, by the selection of Henry C. Hargis of Polk county, a well known and successful farmer. Reports from all parts of the State are very encouraging and indicate the election of the Anti Monopoly State ticket and a majority of Congressional candidates.

A movement is on foot in Tennessee to remove the remains of Andrew Jackson, together with those of his wife, from their present resting place at "The Hermitage" to the northern terrace of the State Capitol at Nashville where a mausoleum is to be erected over them. The legislature will be asked to sanction the plan and to make an appropriation for accomplishing it.

The New York Tribune, in a survey of autumn trade prospects, says: "The general disposition towards economy has played havoc with the dealers in costly furniture, while the prostration of the building interest has had a serious effect upon the iron works. There must be many idle laborers this winter, and charity we fear may be heavily taxed."

The Chicago Post quotes the Buffalo (N. Y.) Express as saying that "the Democratic party will use its best efforts to carry New York this fall," and adds: "The amount of whisky and bogus naturalization covered by that bogus figure of speech is simply enormous."

The Louisville Courier Journal contents itself with publishing an account of a gross outrage in Tennessee and heading it "Worse than Kentucky."

FROM THE CAPITAL

SALEM, September 15 1874.

And still the members of the Legislature are trying to effect a permanent organization, and still the members of the third House are gallantly beating gongs to keep up the spirits of their inside friends, and still there is no indication that a permanent organization is any more likely to take place soon than when the voting first began.

No vote being taken in the Senate yesterday, it was impossible to tell what were the sentiments and feelings of the members. It was only known that the Ring Republicans talked of Dolph for President, with T. McF. Patton or Mr Odeneal for Chief Clerk. But last night a sudden change came. All at once the name of Dolph ceased to be distinguishable in the sound of the Ring gongs and that of Colonel Cornelius, of Washington county became quite audible. That gentleman had appeared in the arena and by indicating to his friends his determination to insist upon his seat relieved them of any fear they may have entertained that his regard for the Constitution had gotten the better of his desire to hold the office and serve his party, and now Dolph was no longer the chief. Patroclus was eclipsed by Achilles. Mr Dolph knows but one method of wooing fame, and that is the method adopted by Ossian, who won the heart and hand of the fair Everallen by slaying all his rivals in mortal combat before her eyes. But Dolph is not the son of Fingal, and the weapons of kings lose their edge in the hands of peasants. So when the roll was called this morning for President of the Senate it was seen that the Ring Republicans had resolved to set aside the Senator from Multnomah and center all their strength on Cornelius. There was a good deal of wild voting and blank voting among the Independents who have an overwhelming minority in the Senate, while the Democrats went straight for Senator Myers of Clackamas. VanCleave, of Multnomah, and Bristow, of Lane, Independents, voted for Myers and Crystal of Polk, Independent, voted for Cornelius. The adjournment after three or four ballots left matters about as the first ballot found them.

In the House the several ballots for Speaker, of which the particulars appear in the phonographic report of the proceedings, showed that party lies are closely drawn in that body. Yesterday afternoon the Independents voted solid for Drain, the Ring Republicans solid for Reed, with the exception of Simpson of Marion, who voted for Drain, and the Democrats solid for Fidler. This morning there was little relaxation of the lines. Drain however gained a little and at the adjournment to this afternoon wanted but four votes of an election.

There are divers and sundry rumors afloat about compromises on the organization, and I suspect there is truth in the statement that both the Ring Republicans and Democrats have made propositions looking to coalition for that purpose, and in the report that the Independents have manifested something like a willingness to enter into an arrangement that would divide the offices of the two houses equitably among all the parties. For my own part I confess it seems to me that it would be quite reasonable and proper to enter into some such arrangement as neither party alone can elect, and the time of the Legislature ought not to be taken up with matters of a purely partisan character unless some great principle were involved.

As nothing is talked of here but the subject of organization, there is nothing else to write about. There will be something else pretty soon however if indications are not deceptive. Colonel Chapman is here to look after the interests of his road, the farmers have some legislation in view, some of the lawyers want to see the Code amended in some particulars in relation to practice in the courts, the fee bills are to be examined, and a dozen other matters of importance are already spoken of. It will be time to discuss these when they come up.

The State Grange is in session, and presents as fine a looking body of men as the Legislature does, and the latter body is as fine as any Legislature that ever convened. II

CITY.

DRUNK AND CRAZY.—An individual residing in A[illegible] whose name we omit to publish, [illegible] of regard for his friends as well as for the man's own sake, was taken into custody yesterday morning and committed to jail. This man [illegible] partially insane from the excessive use of strong drink and when arrested was found wandering about the streets hatless and in a demented state of mind. No charges were preferred against him for disorderly conduct, [illegible] he was confined in jail until he sobered [illegible] by particular request of several prominent gentlemen of Astoria, who are now in the [illegible] By morning, if his condition of mind and body will admit, the man will be liberated. Several days ago this individual, who [illegible] had the Government contract for opening the road from the beach to the new lighthouse on Point Adams came up to Portland. His object was to obtain the money on the contract—$1,600. On arriving here he found that he could not draw the money, as the work had not been examined and accepted by the Government. He then went off on a [illegible] until the police officers took charge of him. Yesterday there were flying rumors on the streets that a man from Astoria had been robbed of $1,600 at the Clarendon Hotel on Monday night. There is no foundation whatever for the report, which doubtless grew out of the circumstances given above.

CLOTHES THIEF.—Complaint was made about [illegible] days ago to the Chief of Police by a man who had just arrived from the East, of the loss of a suit of clothes. He was stopping at the St. Charles Hotel when the suit was stolen. Having occasion one evening to take a walk, he went out and locked the door of his room. On returning he discovered a coat, vest and pair of trowsers missing. He reported the matter to the landlord and the Chief, who made diligent search but failed to discover the least trace of the clothes or the thief. Only a few nights ago, we understand, that a gentleman stopping at the same hotel, lost a suit of clothes in a similar manner. No trace of the perpetrator.

DRUNKEN MAN SHOT.—Through the courtesy of Purser O'Neil of the Dixie Thompson, we are indebted for the following particulars of a shooting affair which occurred at Astoria. About [illegible] o'clock on Tuesday morning the policeman of that town arrested a drunken man and started to the lock-up with him. When nearly at the place the prisoner broke away and started to run off. The officer called to the man to stop, but he heeded it not, when he drew a pistol and fired. The shot took effect in the right shoulder, ranged downward and came out above the right [illegible]. When the boat started away yesterday morning the extent of the man's injuries was not known.

NEW QUARTERS.—The Portland [illegible] moved yesterday into their new [illegible], which although not entirely finished [illegible] on the inside, is quite cheerful and homelike to the members. This company [illegible] the credit of being the first military organization in the [illegible] that put forth the [illegible] and succeeded in getting into quarters belonging to themselves. There is no such word as fail with Captain [illegible] Mountain when he starts after anything.

TAKEN SICK.—From a private letter [illegible] one of our citizens it is learned that on [illegible] last as the Eastern train on the Central Pacific arrived at Sacramento, a [illegible] by the name of James Clark, formerly a resident of this city, and who was on his return here, was taken off from the cars in a dying condition and sent to the hospital. He had in his possession a $100 check on one of the [illegible] of [illegible] and $40 in coin.

[illegible] FOR LIBERTY.—While the [illegible] was lying in the stream at Astoria, on Monday night, a sailor leaped from the vessel and tried to swim ashore. When he had [illegible] some distance away from the vessel he became alarmed and, fearing that he would drown, began to shout aloud for assistance. A boat put out from the Alabama and took the [illegible] It was a leap to regain his liberty, but it availed him nothing.

A LITTLE TOO SMART.—Says the evening contemporary: "Common Council does not meet to-morrow night, as stated by a morning paper. Its regular meetings are the first and third Wednesdays of each month." Smartness is a thing which ought to be admired, but the above rather overdoes itself. Had the person who penned the above examined an almanac he would never have [illegible] so fully into print.

PICTURES TAKEN.—Two photographic views were taken of Protection Co. No. 4 on Monday, by Oliver Denny. The first picture included the steam fire engine and hose cart, and the second the engine house and the members of the Company in uniform. Both views will be about 8x10 inches. They will be neatly framed and hung up in the meeting room of the Company.

THE LECTURE.—This evening Rev. A. H. Bradford will deliver his second and last lecture at the First Congregational Church in this city. His subject will be "A Jerseyman among the Webfeet." Mr Bradford is a very pleasant and popular speaker, and his forthcoming lecture cannot fail to be interesting to all who shall attend.

PAPERS FILED.—The regular fall term of the Circuit Court for Multnomah county will convene on the 12th of October. Legal papers are required to be filed in the Clerk's office ten days prior to the convening of the Court. That [illegible] the case attorneys should file their papers on or before the 2d of October.

MATRIMONIAL MARKET.—As cool weather approaches a corresponding activity in the matrimonial market can be anticipated. Reference to the records in the Clerk's office shows that during the month of August 19 marriage licenses were issued. Thus far in September 7 have been issued.

DISCHARGED.—Yesterday afternoon the case of [illegible] vs. Thomas Tice, charged with the larceny of cattle came up in Police Court for examination. In the opinion of the Court the evidence was insufficient to hold the defendant, and he was accordingly discharged from custody.

REMAINS BROUGHT UP.—The remains of Mrs. [illegible]erbury who died at Kalama on Monday were brought up last evening on the Welcome. The body was taken at once to the Catholic Church, where mass was said, after which it was conveyed to the Catholic cemetery and buried.

PREACHING.—Bishop Pierce, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, will preach in the Taylor street M. E. Church this (Wednesday) evening at 7 30 o'clock. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

From Bass D. Ricky, Secretary of the College Club, we learn that a large crowd is expected to visit Portland on the 26th instant to witness the game between the Arcadians and the above Club. Much interest is being felt in the coming game by the citizens of Salem. [illegible] have been received stating that a number of persons will be present from Astoria and Fort Stevens to witness the game.

The following is the summary of all games played by the College Club of Salem: April [illegible] 12—College 10, Marion 6. May 4th—College [illegible] 32, Marion 41. June 1st—College 31, Monmouth 48. June 8th—College 72, Monmouth [illegible] April 11—College 87, Picked nine 28. June 9th—College [illegible], Coasters 3. June 28th—College [illegible], Pioneers 46. July 21—College 24, Pioneers 27. Oct 10th—College 52, Pioneers [illegible]. June 2[illegible]—College 24, Arcadians 18.

[illegible] is doing a lively business, because he sells only the best cigars and tobacco.

There is a red white and blue bird in the [illegible] advertised as a genuine bilk. The [illegible] first class humbug of course.

CITY.

DRUNK AND CRAZY —An individual residing in Astoria, whose name we omit to publish out of regard for his friends as well as for the man's own sake, was taken into custody yesterday morning and committed to jail This man was partially insane from the excessive use of strong drink and when arrested was found wandering about the streets hatless and in a demented state of mind No charges were preferred against him for disorderly conduct but he was confined in jail until he sobered off by particular request of several prominent gentlemen of Astoria, who are now in the city By morning, if his condition of mind and body will admit, the man will be liberated. Several days ago this individual who it seems had the Government contract for making the road from the beach to the new lighthouse on Point Adams came up to Port land. His object was to obtain the money on the contract—$1 600 On arriving here he found that he could not draw the money, as the work had not been examined and accepted by the Government. He then went off on a spree until the police officers took charge of him. Yesterday there were flying rumors on the streets that a man from Astoria had been robbed of $1 600 at the Clarendon Hotel on Monday night There is no foundation whatever for the report, which doubtless grew out of the circumstances given above

CLOTHES THIEF —Complaint was made about ten days ago to the Chief of Police by a man who had just arrived from the East, of the loss of a suit of clothes. He was stopping at the St. Charles Hotel when the suit was stolen Having occasion one evening to take a walk he went out and locked the door of his room On returning he discovered a coat, vest and pair of trowsers missing He reported the matter to the landlord and the Chief who made diligent search but failed to discover the least trace of the clothes or the thief Only a few days ago, we understand that a gentleman stopping at the same hotel, lost a suit of clothes in a similar manner No trace of the perpetrator

DRUNKEN MAN SHOT —Through the courtesy of Purser O'Neil of the Dixie Thompson we are indebted for the following particulars of a shooting affair which occurred at Astoria About 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning the policeman of that town arrested a drunken man and started to the lock up with him When nearly at the place the prisoner broke away and started to run off The officer called on him to stop, but he heeded it not, when he drew a pistol and fired The shot took effect in the right shoulder ranged downward and came out above the right nipple When the boat started away yesterday morning the extent of the man's injuries was not known

NEW QUARTERS —The Portland Light Battery moved yesterday into their new armory, which although not entirely finished on the inside, is quite cheerful and homelike to the members. This company deserves the credit of being the first military organization in the state that put forth the effort and succeeded in getting into quarters belonging to themselves. As there is no such word as fail with Captain Mountain when he starts after anything

TAKEN SICK —From a private letter received by one of our citizens it is learned that on Sunday last as the Eastern train on the Central P arrived at Sacramento a man by the name of James Clark formerly a resident of this city, and who was on his return here, was taken off from the cars in a dying condition and sent to the hospital He had in his possession a $100 check on one of the banks of this city and $40 in coin

LIFE FOR LIBERTY —While the Alumni was lying in the stream at Astoria on Monday night, a sailor jumped from the vessel and attempted to reach the shore When he had swam some distance from the vessel he became alarmed, thinking that he would drown and began to call aloud for assistance A boat put out from the shore and took the sailor in It was a narrow escape to regain his liberty but it availed him

A LITTLE TOO FAST —Says the evening ... "Oregon City Council does not meet to-night, as stated by a morning paper Its regular meetings are the first and third Wednesday of each month Smart ... ought to be admired but ... overdoes itself Had the ... the above examined an ... he would never have rushed so far into print.

THE LECTURE —This evening Rev A H Bradford will deliver his second and last lecture at the First Congregational Church in this city His subject will be A Jerseyman among the Webfeet Mr Bradford is a very pleasant and popular speaker and his forthcoming lecture cannot fail to be interesting to all who shall attend

JURIES FILLED —The regular fall term of the Circuit Court for Multnomah county will convene on the 12th of October Legal papers are required to be filed in the Clerk's office ten days prior to the convening of the Court That being the case attorneys should file their papers on or before the 2d of October

MATRIMONIAL MARKET —As cool weather approaches a corresponding activity in the matrimonial market can be anticipated Reference to the records in the Clerk's office shows that during the month of August 19 marriage licenses were issued Thus far in September 7 have been issued

DISCHARGED —Yesterday afternoon the case of the State vs Thomas Tice, charged with the larceny of cattle came up in Police Court for examination In the opinion of the Court the evidence was insufficient to hold the defendant and he was accordingly discharged from custody

REMAINS BROUGHT UP —The remains of Mrs ... who died at Kalama on Monday were brought up last evening on the Welcome ... The body was taken at once to the Catholic ... where mass was said, after which it was conveyed to the Catholic cemetery and buried.

PREACHING —Bishop Pierce, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South will preach in the Taylor street M E Church this Wednesday evening at 7½ o'clock The public are respectfully invited to attend

BOARD OF TRADE

[REGULAR MEETING, SEPTEMBER 15 1874]

The Portland Board of Trade met at their rooms in Ankeny's Market at eight o'clock P M

Hon H W Corbett President took the Chair and called the meeting to order

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved

VACANCIES IN COMMITTEES

A communication from B Natorp, resigning his place as a member of the Committee on Arbitration was read and the resignation was accepted

Mr Goldsmith moved that vacancies existing in committees be filled by appointment by the President The motion prevailed

Capt Ankeny stated that at least 20 new members would come into the Board at its next meeting and asked that the matter of filling vacancies be postponed until next meeting The matter was left to the discretion of the President

Mr Burrell tendered his resignation as a member of the Committee on Legislation as he was about to leave the city, to be absent for some time His resignation was accepted

Mr Quackenbush resigned as a member of the Committee on Finance His resignation was accepted

NEW MEMBERS

Mr Burrell proposed the name of D J Malarkey for membership

Capt Ankeny stated that he had procured the names of quite a number of gentlemen (Mr Malarkey included), who desired to become members a list of which would be handed to the Committee on Membership before the next meeting of the Board

DAILY TELEGRAMS

Mr Russell Chairman of the Committee on Finance, upon the subject of telegrams, reported that while the Beerbohm was very full, and would be of much benefit to the members, it lacked one essential quotation that of the price of gold and the Committee recommended that the Board make arrangements to secure daily telegrams giving

1st—New York gold quotations

2d—Price of legal tenders in San Francisco buying and selling

3d—Price of sterling exchange in New York

4th—Price of Oregon wheat per cental in the Liverpool market

5th—Price of Oregon wheat cargoes afloat per quarter in the same market

Such telegrams to be posted daily in the Board room for the use of the members The report was adopted

IMMIGRATION

Mr Russell of the Committee on Immigration, submitted the form of a bill to be presented to the Legislature of the State for action The bill provides for the appointment of three Commissioners named in the bill and a Deputy Commissioner in each of the counties of the State and a Secretary of the chief Board, the officers all to act without salary, except the Secretary, who shall receive not more than $1 500 per annum The bill appropriates out of the State Treasury the sum of $10 000 per annum or so much thereof as may be necessary to carry out the objects of such Board of Immigration Vacancies to be filled by appointment of the Governor The report was adopted, and the bill referred to the Committee on Legislation to be laid before the Legislative Assembly now in in session, in such manner as the committee deem proper

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Mr Schuyler offered an amendment to Article 9 of the Constitution, extending the privileges of the Board to all members of any firm of which one member is a member of the Board, except that of voting at meetings of the Board Provided that members may be represented by proxy The amendment was laid over in accordance with the rule

SEAL OF THE BOARD

On motion of Capt Ankeny the Committee on Finance was instructed to procure a seal for the Board

On motion the Board adjourned

THE BLACK BUTCHERY IN TENNESSEE

A BLACK BARBECUE BICKER —THE BLOODY REGULATORS LYNCH FIFTEEN PRISONERS—THE COWARDLY MURDER OF A COLORED SCHOOL TEACHER AND OTHERS

[Correspondence N Y Herald]
NASHVILLE Tenn August 28 1874

The whole State has been thrown into a commotion by the bloody butchery perpetrated at Trenton by seventy five or one hundred masked men on Tuesday night This most unnatural and outrageous crime struck terror and alarm into the hearts of not only the blacks but the whites also, and people of all classes have arisen as it were en masse and

DENOUNCED THE WHOLESALE MASSACRE

In the most unmistakable terms. It has, in fact, aroused such an unspeakable indignation that its moral influence will have a decided effect in putting down such lawlessness in the future and in crushing out some of the bitter antagonisms that have lately been engendered between the whites and blacks in the western part of Tennessee The storm which has burst with such fury has been brewing for fully five weeks

Its origin in itself was most insignificant and it is hard to believe that it has been brought to a climacteric so full of horror The colored people gave when Joe Hale and several other white men came on the ground at the eleventh hour and desired to participate in the various festivities and especially to have a share of the roast pig and mutton, hot from the pits. Three dollars was the price asked of them that the expenses of the barbecue might be properly defrayed Joshua Webb was the manager [illegible], and as he had set the price at $3 he would take nothing less Hale offered $2 50, which he thought a sufficient amount, as the delicious, smoking viands had been already more than half consumed Webb did not agree with this opinion and expressed his determination to take nothing but $3 Words ran high and Hale was prevented from inflicting serious injuries upon the incensed darkey by the intervention of his own white friends The rest of the negroes were in natural sympathy with their leader, and low and significant mutterings of dissatisfaction were heard among them, and,

LIKE THE SOUND OF DISTANT THUNDER

which comes nearer and grows louder and still louder, finally gave vent in open threats of revenge Rumors of prospective violence of riot and murder were spread abroad creating great uneasiness among the whites and raising within them a counter spirit not easily to be suppressed General bad feeling was thus created and worked itself up to the highest pitch The further report that the negroes were holding secret meetings in the woods and byways organizing and arming themselves to be ready for any course they might see proper to pursue, did not tend to allay the apprehension or heal the breach No open rupture occurred however until last Saturday night While two young men, named Monroe Morgan and James Warren were riding along the road three miles from Picketsville, at eleven o'clock at night, they first observed two armed negro men near the railroad It looked suspicious but they passed on a short distance when they heard numerous firearms click as if in the act of being cocked Soon afterwards apparently thirty or forty weapons were discharged but the young men immediately jumped off their horses and made for a cornfield close at hand Making their way by a circuitous route through the woods they finally reached two friends to whom they related the circumstances They then went into town found many citizens already assembled and great excitement prevailing as the

and various rumors spread as to their whereabouts they being supposed to have been killed from the fact that their riderless horses had been caught An informal meeting was held and opinions [illegible] as to the best mode of procedure under the circumstances It was not deemed prudent to take any steps hastily but after guarding against an attack a party was despatched to the house of one Ben Walker, who it was ascertained, had in his possession a gun. About three o'clock A. M or thereabouts his house was reached, and a negro named Ben Bullard was captured. After carrying him a [illegible] he was urged to make

tell how and when they had met and what object they had in view Being desirous of saving his own hide, he did not hesitate to betray his companions by making a full confession He said the colored people had met that night to organize which they did by electing Winsley Shields captain Their object was to protect Colonel Webb, who had the barbecue difficulty from an attack by alleged Ku Klux, and after that they had determined to murder a negro named Burrell Butler who was not in full sympathy with their plans and movements The prisoner said that he himself had taken no part in their late treason-like proceedings, but had only desired to keep with his race He further said that six negro men named Dan Williams Tom Cooke Jim Cooke Bob Love Dick Shaw and Nelson McGhee, under McGhee's command, had gone to his house and requested him to go with them half a mile from town where a negro meeting was to be held

The object of that meeting was to perfect a plan to kill Burrell Butler Butler's wife was to receive a slight whipping—each of the thirty negroes to administer twenty five lashes upon her bare back

After hearing this confession the party then proceeded to the house of Nelson McGhee, and succeeded in arresting him He was told that it was useless to deny his complicity in the matter, as a confession had already been made, implicating him as ringleader He then [illegible] to a knowledge of the attempted assassination and the intended outbreak, and implicated many others. He said that their

was their only provocation His statement corroborated that of the other negro Both were placed in a vacant house for safe keeping

By this time the whole county, having heard of the disturbances, was in a state of the highest excitement and fomentation, and men from all parts of the country began flocking to Gibson To increase the excitement it was rumored the negroes intended attacking the town of Picketsville. A meeting was held citizens summoned, and all under command of officers of the law, at once proceeded to arrest the following named negroes —George Green, Steve Bryant, Dan Williams, Bob Love Dick Shaw Jarret Burrows Alfred Williams, Dog Jamison Hays Peebles and Nick Ivey, whom they conveyed to town and placed under strict guard A negro named John Reagan was arrested and afterward attempting to escape was shot at since which time he has not been seen or heard of Whether he escaped to the United States barracks at Humboldt or died in the woods from wounds received is only for time to develop

A meeting of citizens was held on Monday morning Justice Arch Jordan Mayor of Milan presiding The meeting was called to order and resolutions adopted deprecating lawlessness and resolving to uphold the civil law and its authorities The negroes were arraigned before Justices Fly, Hunt and Jordan when they admitted their guilt, and the evidence of one of the prisoners (who turned State's evidence) filled all those who listened to it with horror, as they heard of the bloody plans that had been frustrated in so timely a manner They conceived the idea that in anything they did, and they had determined to kill off the majority of the whites in order that they might own the land and in fact make it a negroes country where they might hold all the offices and govern to suit themselves Nelson McGhee's evidence was the same in substance He said that Burrell Butler (colored) was to be the first victim as he had opposed

and they feared that he would tell on them as he knew of their plans The attack on the two young men was not in accordance with any preconceived idea of attack, but was merely done by way of experiment, to see if it would be resented by the whites

After hearing the evidence the negroes were put under guard of forty or fifty men and sent off to the Trenton Jail ten miles distant Up to this time and afterward they were kindly cared for, had been given a fair trial and now in default of bail were held to await further investigation before a higher tribunal Numbers of citizens offered their services to guard the negroes to jail but as they made no ugly demonstrations their services were refused The route to Trenton was pursued without interruption until within a mile of the place, when

and demanded their surrender Constable Dungan who was in charge advised the men to disperse said that the negroes were already prisoners of the law and they could do no good, only harm, by any demonstration After some more parley the men rode off and the guard and prisoners again proceeded on their way to the Trenton Jail the latter with fear and trembling Throughout Monday afternoon and night rumors were numerous as to the collecting of a large body of armed negroes who intended attacking the town and effecting a rescue Citizens armed themselves as well as they could and stood guard over their homes and firesides all the livelong night but the morning at last dawned without further trouble

The prisoners that had been placed in jail, sixteen in number, must have felt like men living on a volcano but they were in a worse position than that, for they were then at the mercy of a people whom they had attempted to outrage, and, by the two efforts that had already been made to snatch them from their keepers might well feel that the strong arm of the law was not near so strong nor so mighty as human passion when under the influence of a great excitement If they trembled within their cells it was not with a fear that was groundless On Tuesday night

took place One hundred armed and masked men rode up to the jail, a terrible and forbidding cavalcade and, when their object was considered, none could look upon them without a shudder The long rows of black robed and black masked figures, keeping in regular line were enough to strike terror into every breast An occasional voice called out in sepulchral tones, "Close up, there" "Keep in line men," "Halt" and such expressions which mingled with the clatter of horses hoofs The jail door was reached and down the street The first summons met with no response but another knock knock until the jailer came unwillingly to open the door to the exacting mob Short exciting sentences ejaculated at intervals, and low exchanged remarks were heard now and then Suddenly there was a command "Men follow me" A number dashed in a shout and a shrill whistle were heard, the jail door opened with grating sounds, admitted the men and closed again When the doors reopened

that doubtless ere this had repented their incendiary language and conduct were brought out into the open air from which the daylight had died The doomed men uttered neither cry nor groan It was near midnight and the weird light of the full moon was obscured by an occasional cloud as if to hide her face in horror at the indescribable scene All was conducted quietly which seemed to add to the dreadful panorama and the few eye-witnesses seemed paralyzed or turned into stone statues as they stood and gazed on the proceedings of the silent band in their

GROTESQUE AND FANTASTIC MASKERY

The sixteen prisoners were hurried out by those who had entered the jail after them the order was given to mount and the lawless band rode out of sight Presently a shot was heard in the distance, and then another and another Those who heard felt that a poor soul had been hurried into eternity as each sharp short crack gave token of the discharge of another fatal bullet on its errand of death Parties subsequently followed in the direction of the shots, and found

SIX LIFELESS FORMS

They were examined and four found to be entirely dead while the heart still beat in the two others Those two were turned over laid in a comfortable position and placed in the care of a physician The masked men conducted the other ten farther on and made away with them by hanging and shooting, stringing and leaving them with ghastly wounds along the highway

The girl

JULIA HAYDEN WAS SHOT DOWN

without a moment's warning and apparently without a cause She was a teacher in the public schools

Colonel Fleming State Superintendent of Public Instruction has ordered an official report from the Superintendent of Trousdale county where the outrage occurred

Three negroes were discovered floating in the Tennessee river last week, bound to three logs of wood and each with

At present in our local market there is no extended demand for discounts and comparatively few movements in the money market This however, does not imply a corresponding stagnation in other departments of trade On the contrary there is as we stated yesterday a moderate and improving activity in business and much of it is on a cash basis Many buyers do not choose to go further than they have money to pay and to a larger extent than is customary they come prepared with the means to pay It is thought that the people do not choose to go forward rapidly in commercial matters but that the possibilities of a large revival of trade lie dormant and that if anything should occur to induce a start all the elements of activity exist among the people as they have been found in past years.

The future of railroad securities is a problem that is occupying the attention of that large class of our citizens who are in numerous ways more or less interested Led by the glowing advertisements of the managers of new railway enterprises thousands of the well to do classes have bought bonds from one to five thousand dollars as permanent investments of the surplus earnings of years of labor

The small investors are dependent to a great degree upon the interest on their bonds for the means of living Among the banks and private money lenders railroad bonds have always held a high place as reliable and safe collaterals the roads themselves are dependent on the sale of their mortgages for means wherewith to push forward needed improvements Thus any movement, mercantile or political, which will reanimate the market for railway debentures will be hailed with pleasure

The capital and surplus of the Bank of England is $90 000 000 and of the Bank of France $36 000 000 Both of these institutions are conservative and the burdens of these banks are great and their profits comparatively smaller than other banks looking after their own interests.

The catch of codfish in the Northern Pacific this season by the fishing fleet from this port is reported at 246 000 Six vessels are engaged in the trade

We have received a London Beerbohm Corn Trade List of August 21 That paper says

From Odessa the shipments continue on a very small scale and the trade at that port remains inanimate, there being according to recent advices seven or eight steamers waiting to be chartered From Taganrog however the shipments have been more numerous, five steamers and four sailing vessels with wheat having been dispatched during the week ending August 20th although last advices from the latter place state that business was inactive owing to the expected large supplies of the new crop The new wheat is said to be of very fine quality and the yield to be extraordinarily good [illegible] steady According to the report of Herr Leinkauf on the crops in the empire of Austro Hungary the amount of wheat available for export was estimated at about 2 296 000 quarters

Late Manila dates state that the sugar market was quiet, with $4 75 per picul asked for extra and $4 37½ for superior Cordage was quoted at $1 [illegible] Hemp $7 [illegible] per picul Flour $9 ₱ bbl for choice During the fortnight ending August 20 there had been four clearances for San Francisco with sugar —the Canopus with 17 700 piculs Waltham 11 600 Maitland 17 000 Ari [illegible] aggregating [illegible] piculs The Ari [illegible] is from Cebu and the others from Manila

The San Francisco Chronicle of the 11th says The Peruvian bark Augustina 916 tons goes with wheat to Liverpool at £4 5s 0d charter, to arrive

The O S N Co sent out from the Upper Columbia to-day 10 000 lbs bacon and lard from Umatilla which will supply a want that begins to be felt in this market

We learn that a gentleman of this city who recently returned from San Francisco brought with him $60,000 to be disbursed here

Since the price of wheat advanced to $1 50 per cental in this market about 15 000 tons have been purchased for shipment abroad. We learn that inquiries were received by telegram to day from Walla Walla asking what could be paid for 10 000 bushels The reply was returned $1 40 per cental sacked in Portland

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—This cereal continues to be the source of a great deal of speculative talk in the market and while the present condition of affairs is pretty well understood in the world [illegible] much is said concerning the probable future of the market Exporters say the present offers will not be sustained after the vessels now here are loaded but in fact if the ships continue to arrive so that there will be enough vessels in port and in the river to carry about 40 000 bushels while the wheat held will be by shippers so far does not exceed one fourth that amount The present week has been looked forward to as likely to bring about some developments in the market but so far no important has occurred The vessels here are still idly waiting a turn in affairs.

FLOUR—The receipts of the product of the new wheat crop are more liberal and as the millers have been able to procure the raw material at lower rates their product is tending downward accordingly The decline since our last weekly review has been 25@50c ₱ bbl and the best brands of extras are jobbing at $5 [illegible] good country brands $4 [illegible] and superfine, $4 Carload lots could probably be secured at even better terms.

OATS—The receipts of the new crop are comparatively light but fully supply the current demand as shippers are not urging the market at all under news of dull sales abroad A decline to 37½@40c ₱ bushel is noted

BARLEY—From reports concerning the harvest there is no doubt but the yield is good—fully up to the average The crop has been saved in good condition and prices realize fairly satisfactory while the future of the market seems to be encouraging We quote choice at $1 50 per 100 lbs including sacks common and feed, $1 37½@1 40

FEED—The supplies are rather better but prices remain steady at $12@14 per ton for bran $17 [illegible] for shorts and $18 [illegible] for chops [illegible]

HAY—The receipts are fair for the season and quotations firm at $10 12 per ton for timothy baled timothy $3@10 per load from wagons Wild hay is not wanted

POTATOES—The receipts have somewhat fallen off and for choice lots prices are better We quote best qualities in sacks at 50 cents per bushel [illegible] cents

ONIONS—The market is in fair supply prices depending much on the quality of offers and the wants of buyers The shipping demand is not active and quotations range from $1 25@1 [illegible] per 100 pounds

FRUIT—The market is abundantly supplied with several varieties and much of it is very perishable prices for the most part depend upon the wants of buyers and quotations that are good for one day may be far from correct twenty four hours later Choice apples (fresh) [illegible] worth 50@60c [illegible]

DRIED FRUITS—The market [illegible] for apples in sacks and [illegible] in kegs [illegible] unchanged

BACON—The receipts are very small and prices continue firm with an advancing tendency Choice side meats are in brisk demand at 11½@12½c and shoulders and hams are also scarce, in fair demand at [illegible] for the former and [illegible] 16c for the latter

LARD—We note no change in the condition of our home market quotations standing at 11@16c ₱ lb in kegs and tins

BUTTER—The recent receipts have been light and prices are better than at our last report We quote choice rolls at [illegible] common [illegible] ₱ lb

CHEESE—Oregon made is more plentiful but prices are sustained at 16@17c ₱ lb jobbing rates

POULTRY—The supply of chickens is not excessive and all offering are freely taken at $4@4 50 for choice lots of grown ₱ dozen and $3 for spring Ducks tame $5 wild $2 50@3 geese $9@10 ₱ doz

LIVESTOCK—The arrivals during the week have been large and to find ready sale cattle or sheep must be No 1 We quote choice beef cattle on foot at 5c inferior 3½@4½c Best mutton sheep $2 50 [illegible] common $1 [illegible] ₱ head

HIDES—Well trimmed undamaged dry hides are quotable at 16 ₱ lb green ditto at 7c [illegible] blemishes reduction is made

WOOL—Prices are nominally firm at 25@30c for finest washed and 21@[illegible] ₱ lb for common

EGGS—The receipts this week have increased and under advices from San Francisco prices have declined to 25@30c ₱ dozen

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

All Quiet in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS Sept 15 —Ten thousand unarmed citizens escorted Lieutenant-Governor Penn to the State House this afternoon The soldiers in the United States Custom House gave three cheers for the citizens as General Ogden's militia passed that building this afternoon The militia responded heartily The streets are very quiet The funerals of those killed yesterday were largely attended A dispatch has been sent to the President requesting him to recognize Penn as Governor

Strength of the Insurgents.

NEW YORK Sept 16 —A special to the Times from New Orleans says the citizens are in undisputed possession of all public places excepting the Custom House and Mint and claim to have fully 8 000 men under their command The colored force of the Kellogg party now left only numbers about 300

[illegible] Citizens of New Orleans in Support of the Penn Government.

NEW ORLEANS Sept 16 —The Picayune this morning says the President's proclamation was issued under false information which has been given him It is addressed to riotous persons, whereas all riotous [illegible] are the adherents of the Kellogg usurpation [illegible] and the respectable and order loving citizens are [illegible] who have taken part in the present uprising [illegible] principal bankers and merchants of this city [illegible] telegraphed to the President the true state of [illegible] case that all is now quiet and that no outbreak [illegible] violence need be feared [illegible] Leading men of the White League say if the [illegible] proclamation contemplates the reinstatement of Kellogg they are prepared for war and will resist to the end

[illegible] in Progress to go back to First Principles.

Acting Governor Penn is exercising all the functions of his office and has begun the removal of [illegible] and parish officers It is understood that he intends to call a session of the McEnery Legislature and impeach the Supreme Court of Louisiana which sustained the legality of the Kellogg Government.

Feeling of Relief—Watching for Kellogg.

The city is quiet this morning, and there is a general feeling of relief The only gathering in the [illegible] is opposite the Custom House, where Kellogg [illegible] and are staying [illegible] A crowd of 200 or [illegible] men are waiting there, watching every window, [illegible] of them declaring their intention to shoot Kellogg on sight should he show his head

[illegible]-Governor Penn on the [illegible] tion.

NEW YORK Sept 16 —The Herald of this morning prints a letter from Lieut. Governor Penn, telegraphed for publication. He says the movement [illegible] the 14th proceeded entirely from the people [illegible] usurpation utterly [illegible] appealed upon its first [illegible] It was resolved by the citizens that the people were determined to submit no longer to usurpation and oppression at the hands of men not chosen by themselves. You can form no idea of the robbery and spoliation to which we have [illegible] subjected My movement was [illegible] by the [illegible] of the people. They demanded it I am now [illegible] full possession of the government of the State [illegible] colored people are [illegible] and contented. A [illegible] long brigade of colored troops organized and [illegible] in the service of the [illegible] a shot in its defense Most perfect peace and [illegible] prevail We are thoroughly loyal to the Federal Government and in the operations of the past [illegible] days there have been no excesses or violations [illegible] law This government is the only one now in [illegible] in Louisiana.

New Jersey Democratic State Convention.

TRENTON N J Sept 15 —The Democratic [illegible] Convention adopted a platform favoring rigid reduction of State and National Government, equal political rights to all men a restoration of gold and silver as the only true basis of currency for the country and a tariff for revenue only favoring the repeal of the gag law and opposing a third term.

New York Democrats in [illegible]

SYRACUSE Sept 15.—The Democratic Convention meets to-morrow The feeling between the [illegible] of Samuel Tilden and those of [illegible] who held a meeting at Albany last week, is very [illegible] The feeling to night is so strong that it is possible the nomination will fall upon a new name [illegible] Parker of Albany has been mentioned this evening quite frequently as one [illegible] the Convention could harmonize The trouble seems to be exclusively between the New York city delegation and those who held the Albany [illegible]

Arkansas Republican State Convention.

LITTLE ROCK Sept. 15.—Republican State Convention met here to-day effected a temporary organization appointed committees, but transacted no business.

The Mutual Friend Getting into Hot Water.

NEW YORK, Sept 16 —Gen Tracy, counsel for Plymouth Church Investigating Committee, has put his promised statement in the form of an interview and says that out of 13 or 14 times in which Moulton produces his (Tracy's) name in his last [illegible] but in only one or two instances does he approximate the truth in attempting to state his [illegible] tion and action

Gen Tracy also says his firm has been [illegible] in a libel suit instituted by Edna Dean Proctor against Moulton in which damages are laid at $100 000

Progress of the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

ST PAUL Sept 16.—A dispatch from Fort Garry says Mr Whitehead, the principal contractor has commenced grading the Pembina branch of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. The grading will be completed by the first of November, and the rails and stock will be in thorough order by the 1st of July 1875

Philadelphia Wool Market.

PHILADELPHIA Sept 15 —Wool firm fair demand for Colorado washed at 28@33c Colorado unwashed 28@35c extra and Merino pulled 40@42, No 1 and superfine pulled 42@48c Texas fine and medium 27@33c coarse do 18@25 California fine and medium 28@35 do coarse 20@25c.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Mere Presence of Troops in the South has Lost its Effect.

WASHINGTON Sept 15 —General Emery, in a dispatch dated yesterday addressed to Gen McDowell and sent to the War Department says he has not troops enough to maintain himself if a conflict occurs between the troops and the insurgents, and further the mere presence of troops has lost its moral effect in preventing or suppressing disturbances

Gone to the Seat of Government at Long Branch.

The President, before leaving to-day issued two orders to General Emery commanding troops in Louisiana, but their purport has not been ascertained

The Safe Burglars' Trial.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 —To-day the trial of Wm. Benton the alleged safe burglar was to have taken place Benton was not present, and his counsel asked a further postponement. The Court refused and Benton's bond of $2 000 was ordered forfeited The only course now open is the rearrest of Benton provided he can be found

The grand jury found a true bill for conspiracy against Richard Harrington A B Williams Col Whitely Nettleship and Geo Cass lately of the detective service Sorath a German of Newark and Mitchell Hayes who have been in jail for several months.
